SEO SETUP

Why Basic SEO Still Matters

When websites are completed they need to undergo what we call a post-development phase. This is where we set up a website so that it can be found and ranked optimally on Google.

We call this "organic SEO" which is an important factor in generating traffic without paying for things like Adwords. Although it's not as effective as having targeted campaigns to promote your business, it's still a necessity for any legitimate business to have.

Our team will do the heavy lifting. All you need to do is provide us with login details for us to be able to weave our magic across your site.

If you are unsure if/how this has been conducted, we offer a quick complimentary check-in on your behalf.
